By the time the second series was run a breeze had started up and there were better finds. I didn't watch the third series as I was helping get stuff ready for the lobster bake but I believe it was held in a hayfield.

Weather was sunny and a bit on the warm side. The birds flew strong and hard until the great gun team put together by Gun Captain Dean Reinke brought them down. Outstanding field marshalling by Cathy Lewis and Deb Schoene kept things moving and we were able to finish series 1 and 2 of both the Open & Amateur on Saturday, leaving Sunday for the third and the Puppy Stake. A million thanks to all the great folks from Wisconsin, Illinois and Minnesota who pitched in to help our small club get the job done.

Thanks; Diane Zablitz NOTES The fall colors were out early for Northern Utah and truly gorgeous in their display of crimson and gold against the evergreens in this beautiful mountain valley at 5,000 feet elevation. The weather crept toward 80 on Saturday, but was low 70s on Sunday, with nice breezes both days. The cover was at least knee high mixed grasses, with some sections of tough, thick, tall thistle framed by beautiful tree borders. Saturday as the 3rd series finished, we were treated to the view of two bull elk on the opposite hillside as we returned to camp. Sunday the meadows were frequently traversed by moose -- a cow and her calf provided some close encounters that made walking up to the course or back to camp an unexpected adventure. Several bulls were also present, although less threatening. What a beautiful way to welcome fall....congratulations to all!

Overall, scenting was good and the many small pines that dotted much of the course made for an interesting run. As usual, the club members worked hard to provide an enjoyable weekend for all.

	Thanks; Cheryl Sligar NOTES: The Antelope Valley ESSC Field Trial was held at the Four Winds Pheasant Clubs near San Jacinto, CA. Cover was a mixture of oats, sage and weeds, but very dry and dusty, and thick in many areas. Morning temps started out at 57 degrees, but rose to 95 by noon. The fields had tubs of water scattered all over. No dogs were in distress. The second day, the Santa Ana winds were blowing about 40 miles and hour; mixed blessings for us, but terrible for the fires in Southern California. The fires were getting close. We were not in the danger area, but we could see the smoke above the surrounding mountains, and reports were coming in that the freeways were being shut down throughout the area. On Sunday, the temps actually got warmer more quickly, but the winds seemed to make it feel cooler. The heat was not as much a factor on Sunday as were the winds blowing dust everywhere, making shooting and retrieving very difficult. It was tough for the remaining dogs in the Open.

	Thanks; Bev Matthews NOTES : Saturday was perfect fall hunting weather. Everyone bundled up against a chilly 50 degrees. The cold weather of the past couple of weeks had left the grounds in perfect condition. Sun was out all day, slight wind - great day. Sunday - much warmer - about 60 degrees, but no sun - Mother Nature was kind - while cloud cover was very dark and ominous much of the day - the rain held off until after dark.

	Thanks; Jerry Livingston, Field Trial Chairman NOTES: The trial was run in 4 - 5 inches of freshly fallen snow and temperatures that ranged from 10 - 32 degrees. It was a gas watching the dogs do their work in the white stuff and cool temperatures. I was worried at first what the days might bring but I 'm here to say that I would do a trial in the snow again anytime. The dogs were just incredible and some of the work bordered on the amazing. I've not had this much fun at a field trial in a long time! The snow also did a great job of containing the birds and our production was excellent. My hat's off to the brave souls that attended this trial in spite of the elements. It was a blast!
